FST21 was founded in 2007 by Major General (Res.) Aharon Zeevi Farkash, a world-leading security expert who served as head of the Israeli Military Intelligence.

FST21 is on path to becoming the leading provider of intelligent controlled access solutions with the mission of increasing security and convenience by enhancing quality of life in residential, commercial and government buildings and facilities.

The FST21 management team has a track record of success in security technology, entrepreneurship, product development, sales, marketing & service.

Company core values include a long-term commitment to excellence, teamwork and loyalty to our customers.

The FST21 R&D team of professionals has substantial technology experience acquired in an array of interdisciplinary development roles with leading multinational and high-tech companies and during their military service. At FST21 they have the exciting challenge of forming the future of intelligent access security solutions based on a fusion of 2nd generation biometrics, video and voice analytics.

FST21 is a global company with offices in Southborough, Massachusetts, USA, Sao Paulo, Brazil, APAC and Tel Aviv, Israel.

In Motion Identification™ Identity Management and Control

Security with Convenience

In Motion Identification™ Identity Management and Control

FST21 has created a new security paradigm - combining security with convenience. Your identity becomes your key to access buildings, apartments, and offices, to obtain services, and even to make payments.

A world without keys, cards, or passwords is simpler, safer and more convenient.

FST21 creates a world where You are the Key®.
